BELVIDERE,

Warren County, N. J.

This station is the terminus of the Lehigh and Hudson River Railway, distant 63 miles from Greycourt and 82 miles from Newburgh. Belvidere is beautifully situated on the east bank of the Delaware River and is the seat of government for Warren County, N. J. Its streets are well graded, and a well shaped park adorns the centre of the town. The whole situation is a very attractive one and offers unsurpassed advantages to summer boarders and others seeking a healthful and pleasant place to live. The water works (stand pipe system), afford the best of water for all purposes, which is conveyed to all parts of the borough. Railroad connection is made at this station with the Belvidere division of the Pennsylvania Railroad for Phillipsburg, Easton, Philadelphia and Trenton and all lines diverging.

SUSSEX INDEPENDENT, issued every Friday, Stanton & Wilson, proprs. DeCamp sq. (See adv)

THE SUSSEX INDEPENDENT DECKERTOWN, N. J.

ESTABLISHED 1870.

Largest circulation of any local paper in the northern part of the State.

The paper is complete in all its departments, is active in the collection of authentic news, is vigorous in the expression of intelligent thoughts, and its opinions are not on sale.

It has the best corps of writers, special contributors and correspondents in Northern New Jersey. Its rates are moderate for the service rendered. The best is always the cheapest. The universal verdict of thoughtful people is that the INDEPENDENT is the best.

It has a circulation of nearly 2,000, the largest of any paper in Sussex County. Our books are open for the inspection of advertisers.

POINTS FOR YOUR MEMORY.

It is unquestionably the family newspaper.

Having the confidence of its readers, advertisements in its columns are favorably regarded.

The advertisers who have steadily used it for many years are still among its patrons.

The best and most positive proof of these assertions are the testimonials of the leading merchants and others who have tested it.

PROFESSIONAL OPINIONS.

"We fail to see where the Deckertown INDEPENDENT can be improved."—Minisink News.

"The most attractive country journal in the State of New Jersey."—Warwick Dispatch, May 31st, '99.

"THE INDEPENDENT is the very best sample of country journalism within my knowledge. Indeed it would do credit to metropolitan management. It is spicy, newsworthy, and above all clean."—James McC. Marrow, Counselor-at-Law, 772 Broad Street, Newark, N. J., July 13, 1898.

BROWN'S HOTEL.

BROWN'S HOTEL, at Newfoundland, New Jersey, was founded by Peter P. Brown in 1817 and by him conducted until 1844. It then passed into the hands of his son John P. Brown, under whose management it was greatly enlarged and became a famous resort for the people of the Northern and Eastern Sections of the State. At the death of John P. Brown in 1893 it became the property of his son, Mr. Theodore Brown, the present proprietor. For terms address
