

Compiled Service Records for Col. Hathorn's Militia Regiment
Compiled Service Records of Soldiers Who Served in the American Army During the Revolutionary War:
1775-1783

National Archives and Records Administration Number: NARA M881

Extracted by Sue Gardner, 2008

These records are transcribed from the handwritten card files; the card files were created many years ago from the original handwritten documents. Hathorn's militia consisted of men drawn from both New York and the New Jersey bordering area. This list is not confined to Warwick men. At different times, men from other units were attached to Hathorn for a time, during the chaos of battles and movements.

The records are very incomplete; often the total evidence for a soldier's service was a single receipt for a pay certificate. The exact length of the duty for each soldier is unknown-- the paperwork was frequently lost or destroyed, or simply not provided. Where the entry is "Receipt roll", these are receipts that were given by the soldier for receiving his pay or a pay certificate. The phrase "Certificates and sums" means that the list consisted of soldiers verifying that they had received either their certificate for pay, or the pay itself. The scanned documents this list was prepared from are on www.footnote.com. The original handwritten lists that the card files were made from are also on that resource.

A note about the dates: Where a card listed a date of service and a later date that the document was issued, I have used the actual date of service mentioned, instead of the document date, so as to give a truer picture of when he served. Many of the receipt rolls are dated after the war ended, but actually refer to service during the war years. Years often passed before the actual pay was collected.
