

Albert Wisner Public Library Display Policy

Albert Wisner Public Library uses display areas consistent with its mission. The Library develops its own displays regularly as a means of highlighting its collections, programs and services; to bring attention to special or under-used aspects of the collection; to simplify finding information on topics of current interest; to celebrate special occasions or to foster cultural awareness, civic engagement and discourse. Materials displayed or distributed in the Library do not constitute Library endorsement of the ideas, issues or events represented by those materials.

Anyone who wishes to register a concern about a given display may call or email the Library Director, whose name and contact information are posted on the Library's website at albertwisnerlibrary.org.
